Writ of Habeas Corpus.

If the doctrine of Judge Leavit is correct, this writ is not what it has been supposed to be. The pith of the whole matter in refusing there is public danger, and that an arrest is sumption. What, then, is the merit of this writ so often talked about -so lauded as the very corner-stone of personal liberty?

But he forgets that per-sons "in the military and navel service of the United States" are subject to military law, while the ordinary citizen is subject exclusively to civil law. Military law is a part of the law of the land as much as the civil law; but it is applicable only to a particular class, and administered only by special tribunals. Soldiers in service, cadets at West Point, servants of efficers and citizens within the actual lines of the army, may be guilty of offenses created by that law and tried by its courts, but we doubt whether it can be exceeded to oth ers in any case. Neither does it seems to us that martial law, as it is called by the English and American writers, and the "state of slege" by the French—a different thing from military law—has been proclaimed to exist in the Department of the Ohio. Or, even if it has been proclaimed, we doubt whether any authority under it can be exercised against persons who are not immediately within the scope of active military operations. It is at least an arbitrary application of military government—the government of mere force—which substitute the will of the commanding General for the comwill of the commanding General for the com-mon or municipal law, and which eight not to be resorted to except in cases of absolute necessity. Vallandigham's offenses, moreover, have been as yet confined to the use of foolish words. He calls Mr. Lincoln bad names; he denounces the Republican party; he abuses Burnside's new military orders; and his example and his instructions are exceedingly pernicious. But, alas, we cannot, in the spirit of Anacharsis Clooc's demand, hang all the dastards and scoundrels at discretion. Vallandigham has not, that we hear, committed any overt act of treason; he has not resisted the laws, though he has perhaps counseled resistance, and until he does, his stilly babbling, like Brooks' and Wood's, must be allowed to pass for what it is worth. It is not likely to persuade more than a few Ignorant or melignant persuade more than a few ignorant or milignant men to do wrong. Besides, no governments and no authorities are to be held as above criticism or even denunciation. We know of no other way of correcting their faults—spurring on way of correcting their faults—spurring on their sluggishness, or restraining their tyran-nies—than by open and bold discussion. How can a popular government, most of all, know the popular will, and guide its course in the interests of the community, unless it be told from time to time what the popular convic-tions and wishes are? The Ruins of Fredericksburg.

Fredericksburg presents a most desolate appearance. Nothing has been done to reosit the serious injuries inflicted upon the place during the engagement of last December. Nevrly every prominent building is more or less pock marked with shot, shell and Minie bails. The tall, costly spire of the Episcopal church is perforated by seventeen shot holes. Ruins of once elegant readiences are seen on every hand. The Bernard House, a little below the city, used by our forces for a hospital during the battle of December, has since been burned accidentally. The owner of this estate was a wealthy bachelor. Not long after General Frankin's force had crossed, he was detected endeavoring to steal into he was detected endeavoring to steal into our lines, and believing that he had been con-veying information to the enemy, General Franklin ordered him into durance vile, where Franklin ordered him into durance vile, where he has remained ever since. His lordly mansion, built after the English style of architecture, was furnished with everything which wealth could furnish. Damask curtains, Brussels carpete, marble center-tables, eigeant mirrors and chandeliers, adorned the various apartments. There were are paintings from the Italian masters suspended on the walls, and numerous libraries found in different parts of the buildings. This home and all these adornments are now gone, and the owner a prisoner in our hands. But he will learn, should his eye fall on this communication, of yet another misfortune.

Behind the memorable stone wall, directly beneath, were the dead bodies of hundreds of rebels, all shot through the head. From one end to the other of the wall, the ground was scattered with garments, guns, knapsacke and belts, which the rebels had cast aside in their flight. Most of our own soldiers who fell in the charge were buried on the plain, between the wall and the city. Passing by the country beyond the charge were buried on the plain, between the wall and the city. Passing by the hights, to the country beyond, the fleids were green with cereals of every description, presenting a most beautiful appearance.—[Letter from the Army.

How the Soldier Enjoys Himself.—Some of our soldiers in Tennessee appear to be well surrounded by the "comforts of life." A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Triune, Tenn., says:

BEASTLY DEGRADATION OF THE WHITE MAN Every day the Abolitionists are proceeding from bad to worse. This is always the case with fanaticism. No longer content to claim for the negro equality with the white race, in mental and moral capacity, the leaders of the faction are now beginning to assert his superiority. Rev. Theodore Tilton, in one of his recent speeches, declared the negro not only equal in all respects to the white man, but in many respects his superior. This is the most beastly utterance that has yet reached our ears, Probably the next announcement from the oracles of the Abolition frenzy will be that the negro is equal to God himself, and that he ought to be set up for public worship in all our churches, after the example of the crazy Robespierrean madmen of Paris in the French Revolution, who placed on the altar, of the Cathedral of Notre Dame a nude courtessan, to Cathedral of Notre Dame a nude courtesan, to be worshipped as the Goddess of Liberty. The only tendency of this attempt to deliy the black is to degrade the mean, dirty white men concerned in it. Nature's laws are not reversed by any amount of fanaticism.—[N. Y. Heraid.

The letter declared that slavery might have been ended thirty years since by the moral sentiments and protests of the people, who persecuted and despised the Abolitionists for their words of warning Now the Barons of the South would receive no concessions, and now they would receive no concessions, and now they would have to fight out slavery. The letter, after declaring those who enjoyed the franchise should have a knowledge of the Constitutions of the State and Republic, stated: Let the conditions on which the elective franchise shall be granted to any one be placed where common sense obviously requires they should be placed, and then admit all, men and women, patives and foreigners, colored, as well as white, to the exercise of

A gentleman, whose name was not announced, alluded to the resolutions brought before Congress, that the South, by her rebellion, had forfeited all protection to savery from the Constitution; and said that he believed that was the right, the proper, view of the matter. Slavery was in a state of rebellion against the Constitution. Nothing but the strong arm of military power prevented slaveholders from breaking out into open treason in the border States. Slavery thus made itself an outlaw, and he was astonished that there were Republicans and Abolitionists INTERESTING DISCOVERY AT NAPLES.—A WOOD'S THEATER .- The Zavistowski Troupe continue to create a great furore among the levers of the terpsichorean art. Their elegant and graceful dancing and inimitable pantomimic powers nightly attract large and fashionable audiences. It is certainly the best ballet and pantomime troups we have ever had on the Louisville boards, excepting only the celebrated Ravel family. Their performance last night elicited the most rapturous applause, each dance being vociferously encored, and the graceful and dashing Christine, and the wonderful La Petite Alice, were literally showered with bouquets, while the droll and agile Antonio Zavistowski excited the risibility of the audience to an extent that jeopardized waist buttons and stay laces. Tonight the entire troupe appear in the fairy legendary drama of the "Lakes of Killarney," the little prodigy, Alice Zavistowski, sustaining the character of the Fairy Filladanne, and Mr. Nickinson that of Ned Ryan. Antonio and the troupe also appear in a comic ballet pantomime entitled "Bibi's First Love," replete with grand dances and humorous situations. As this talented troupe appear but three nights more, the admirers of Terpsichore should not miss the present opportunity of witnessing their chaste performances.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE BY REV. HONORABLE EMPLOYMENT.-Let the young man remember there is nothing deregatory in any employment which ministers to the well-being of the race. It is the spirit that is carried into any employment that elevates or degrades it. The plowman that turns the clod may be a Cincinnatus or a Washington, or he is a brother to the clod he turns. There is no glory in afflying a signature by which s no glory in affixing a signature by which the treasures of commerce are transferred, or treaties between nations ratified; the glory consists in the rectitude of purpose that approves the one, and the grandeur of the philanthropy that sanctions the other.—[Ex.

THE ONLY PERFECT COMBINED MACRINE IN USE, Having Two Distinct Motions,

A Slow Motion to the Sickle in Reaping,

A Fast Motion to the Knife in Mowing. DY THIS IMPROVEMENT WE ENTIRELY AVOID THE GREAT DIFFICULTY HERETOFORE FOUND. In all Combined Machines having but one speed, which is too rap'd for reaging and too slow for mowing. The cutting apparatus of the Machine in reaging as well as increased draft to most other analysis has been so changed and improved for 1863 that we will warrant it we have also placed a Spring Seat on our Machine for the driver, which sives him greater command over his team and machine, as well as perfect ease, security and comfort in driving. These it provenents make this Machine the very perfection of a combination, doing perfectly the work of two matchines.

THE KENTUCKY BROAD GAUGE REAPER. CUTS A SWATH SEVEN FEET WIDE.

This Machine is only intended for Reaping, and was introduced by us in 1860, and is a complete succers. It is designed for the use of v.ry large grain growers, and is capable of cutt re from 20 to 25 acres of any kind Price at Louisville, $120, Cash.

A TWO WHEEL IRON MOWER.

The KENTUCKY CLIPPER, as arranged, strengthened, and improved, for 1863, presents the most complete, simple, durable, and compact Mowing Machine ever invented, and we will warrant its Mowing qualities equ. I to those of any other Machine in use.

Among the points of excellence in this machine may be enumerated:

*First—It has two independent driving wheels, both drivers (ret with but one set of year). The wheels are each coupled to the shaft by a pawl and ratchet, so that in backing the machine is alwa, so not of year, yet when moving forward may be thrown in or out of year at pleasure.

*Second—The cutter-bar is jointed or hinged so as to readily religst itself to uneven surfaces, and is easily raised by means of a lever, to pass over obstructions. It is made of the best east-steel, but rigid and strong.

*Third—The entire machine, with the exception of the torgue, is made of iron and steel, yet very light, weighing less than 600 pounds. Width of swath, four feet three inches.

PRICE AT THE FACTORY, $100, CASH. GENTLEM N-I have tried your Kentucky Clipper in the same field with a "Buckeye," cutting clover and consequently no ther machine could cut v-ry close; but there was a rast difference between the cut of the Buckeye and the cut of the Clipper. The Clipper's work was at least userly-fice per cent. the best. The Buckeye can cut a little wore than the Clipper, for two reasons, viz: It cuts it title which that the Clipper, I cut the most, for the Buckeye was detained for repairs, and this is the great difficulty with the Buckeye was detained for repairs, and this is the great difficulty with the Buckeye-it is occasions. The Chicago Tribune relates the following extraordinary case of dropsy: "A Mrs. Wright, of Carville, has been tapped, within the last eighteen months, twenty-eight times, and about thirty pounds of water drawn off at each operation. A little over eigh een months since she had an attack of dysentery, which was cured, when abscesses supervened, forming in the groin. They were lanced two or three times, and healed. She immediately commenced bloating, and then followed the tapping. She weighs but seventy-five pounds, is over sixty years of age and still survives, although between eight hundred and nine although between eight hundred and nine

News by Tuesday Evening's Mail.

-A cotemporary reveals the important in lligence that thirty thousand foreign muskets were recently received at Matamoras for the use of the rebels west of the Mississippi. Three or four thousand have already reached Price, at Little Rock, and the remainder are on their way to him, overland, through Texas and the Indian Territory. The immense contraband traffic between the rebels and Matamoras shows the importance of our holding the Rio Grande from El Paso to its mouth, which could be done by a small force. The blockade will never be complete without it.

-A special dispatch from Murfreesboro to the Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday states that the Mobile Register of the 13th is informed that a new British Consul is on his way to Mobile, and savagely demands that he be not tolerated. It dencunces the British Government in unmeasured terms, declares that Lord Lyons is an Abolition Minister of an Abolition Government to the Abolition Lincoln Administration, and charges the British Government with every kind of bypoerisy and duplicity.

-There must have been a first-class battle at Jackson when it was taken by Grant, for a letter from there of the 9th of May says the troops were then pouring in from all quarters for defense. Forces had arrived there from North Carolina, Charleston and Port Hudson. Jackson was then being hastily fortified, and was already bristling with intrenchments and pickets. The indications are that the Union arms have gained at Jackson a glorious and important victory. -A Washington special dispatch, dated 16th, saya: The railroad lines from Richmond to Lee's army at Fredericksburg are said to be again in working order. Two of the most important bridges on these roads, it seems, were not destroyed by Stoneman, as reported. Richmond papers of yesterday having been received here to-day demonstrates the first that the means of maid townit be the fact that the means of rapid transit be-tween the rebel capital and Washington are not altogether deficient.

-The Cincinnati papers of yesterday concontain the sentence and findings of the Military Commission in the case of Hon. C. L. Vallandigham, which have been approved and confirmed by Major General Burnside. Mr. Vallandigham is sentenced "to be placed in close confinement in some fortress of the eral days."
Gen. Grant also telegraphed Gen. Halleck, from Raymend, Mississippi, May 14, as follows:
"McPherson took this place on the 12th inst., after a brisk fight of more than two hours. Our loss was fifty-one killed and one hundred and eighty wounded. The enemy's loss was seventy killed and one hundred and eighty prisoners, besides the wounded."

United States, to be designated by the commanding officer of this department, and there to be kept during the continuance of the war." By order of General Burnside, "it is directed that the place of confinement of the prisoner, Clement L. Vallandigham, in accordance with the sentence, be Fort Warren, Boeleighty eight prisoners, besides the wounded." United States, to be designated by the commanding officer of this department, and there to be kept during the continuance of the war." > -The Commercial of yesterday contains full and interesting account of Gen. Grierson's late cavalry raid through the State of Mississippi, which is pronounced one of the most brilliant and successful expeditions of the kind made during the war. The importance of this expedition, says the account, can hardly be realized without some reflection on what has been accomplished. In seventeer days the troops marched over eight hundred miles. They traveled through the very heart of rebeldom, fighting at every point where they met with opposition. They have killed and wounded a large number of the enemy, and have destroyed over four million dellars worth of property, which would have been of immense assistance to the rebels in the prose cution of the war. On two important railroads they have completely cut off all com-munication the strongholds of the enemy. They have taken over one thousand prisoners, captured over twelve hundred horses and menaced the enemy at points where they were least expected. -The great Democratic convention of the ville on the 13th irst. Col. Wilder's scoats captured eight of his body-guard yesterday, and found documents on them showing that Gen. Morgan has had a quarrel with Wheeler, and was under arrest, but has been taken from under Wheeler's command.

Prisoners taken by Col. Wilder say Gen. Morgan has moved towards Kentucky, proposing to cross the Cumberland above Carthage. There is a report that he crossed Friday, but it is not credited.

Gen. Wood returns to the command of his old division, instead of retsining command of Nashville, his old troops protesting against his retirement from active command.

The Mobile Register of the 15th says:

"General Buckner has been assigned to the command of East Tennessee, vice Davis. There is also a story in circulation that he has been attempting to cross the Cumberland. It is presumed that forcts have been lately thrown into East Tennessee, as General Buckner's rank throws him into command of a division, and presumes the retirement of Davis. There was only the Seventh brigade in the department."

A dispatch in the Atlanta Intelligencer of speedily followed. There is not one loyal heart in this Commonwealth, not one in all this Confederacy, that has not, or will not sicken and sink with grief at his fall. Were it possible to restore him, we believe there are thousands who would give their own lives to ransom him from the captivity or

For all this love for him living, and all this grief for him dead, there was reason enough; for in the great struggle which now engages all hearts and hands he was himself a power all hearts and hands he was himself a power equal to many regiments of armed men. He had thrown into it the energies of a mighty spirit, the resources of a great intellect. What others did or attempted from impulses of ambition, patriotism, or a sense of duty, he did from compulsion of conscience and a reverential conviction of obligation to his Maker. He did it with all the strength of mind, soul and body. So actuated, he thought not of consciences to himself—of dangers to be encounquences to himself—of dangers to be encountered, or glory to be won; and so acting, he left nothing undone that was possible of accomplishment.

There is no need now to rehearse his deeds—they are fresh in the memories of all. But memorable as those deeds are, and destined to become lessens for military students for long ages to come, it was not, perhaps, so much what in his brief but crowded career he accomplished, as the manner in which he did whatever most difficult feat lay before, and the ability he thus manifested for more arduous and momentous achievements—that explains the wonderful growth of his fame, and will give him a place in history amid the most renowned heroes and captains of all complishment. most renowned heroes and captains of all

WAR DEP'T, ADJ'T GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, May 13:h, 1863. General Orders No. 221.

1st. Major-General J. M. Schofield is, by direction of the President, assigned to command the Department of Missouri.
2d. Major-General R. Curtis, on being relieved from his command, will report by letter to the Adjutant-General of the army. By order to the Adjutant-General of the army. By order of the President.

[Signed] E. D. Townsend, A. A. G.

Col. Thorpe, from Gen. Banks' digartment, states that Gen. Ullman's brigade in more than filled, and the new country just opened by Banks' campaign will furnish two or three divisions of negroes in response to his call for a Corps d'Afrique. No doubt the rebels are engaged in raising negro regiments, as it is only from such material they can now, in extreme Southern States, recruit their ranks. Negroes are not backward in adopting a uniform which is their death warrant, if taken by the rebels.

NEW YORK, May 19. The Times' Washington special contains the following:
The Richmond Esquirer, of the 16th, says that trains to the White House, on the York
River Railroad, have been making their regu-

The Enquirer, in speaking of the retaliatory resolutions of the rebel Congress, relative to officers of negro reziments, says the Yankees will, in turn, hang the rebel efficers, and seems to be in grief over the matter.

New York, May 19.

A Carrsville letter of the 16th states that a severe infantry fight took place near Suffolk on the morning of the 15th. A heavy rebel torce of infantry is reported as having driven in our pickets at Beaver Dam Church. Troops were sent out to oppose the rebels. After a short skirmish, the rebels retired before two companies of the Sixth Massachasetts and Tenth New Jersey, but agals opened. Soon after the third assault by our troops was made they retreated, and our forces now occupy a strong position in and around Carrsville. Our loss was 2 killed, 21 wounded and 6 missing, Our forces are busy removing rails from the railroad and the whole track is being taken up.

the 8th inst., from Evansville, says:

The steamer Huntress was run into by the ram Monarch and sunk, in the Mississippi Bend, about two miles above Uniontown, last night. The ram Monarch, bound up, gave her signal, but through some carelessness of those in charge of the Huntress, an improper signal was given by the Huntress, and the ram struck her in the side. No lives were lost. The Huntress was loaded with Government freight, which is a total loss. The boat lies on a bar, and will probably be saved as soon as the water falls suffi ien!ly.

Between seventy five and one hundred guerrillas have got back into Webster and Hopkins counties, slipping through our lines separately and in small squads. They are remnants of Johnson's old command. The Sifty-fifth Indians (mounted infantry, are hunting them through the woods and swamps. They came into Kentucky to organize and recruit for the summer campaign, but are now busy in hunting places of concealment in the woods and swamps to escape capture by our troops. Their campaign this summer will hardly be as successful as last year. Colonel Foster has fifty or sixty guerrilias in prison now, and will soon thin them out again.

A foraging party went out from Madisonville a few days since, and was attacked by some forty odd guerrillas, who captured two of Captain Hasting's men, burned one U. S. wagon, and took the mules. No one was hurt.

Another batch of prisoners will leave for Johnson's Island and Camp Chase in a few days.

Description of the "Louisville Mower." TWHIS MACHINE IS MADE ALMOST ENTIRELY OF IRON. IT IS EXCEEDINGLY COMPACT AND SIMPLE, AND STRONG BEYOND ANY POSSIBILITY OF breaking. It cuts a swath 4 feet 4 inches wide, and cuts even and smooth in all kit ds of grass, it has a lever for raising the finger-bar from the ground for passing obstructions, or for moving from field to field. It is arranged to throw itself out of gear when backing and is convenient to bandle in every respect. It weighs the founds, which is heavier than several of the newlet-invented Machines, but hone too heavy, we think, to stand the rough and carelers usage to which all mowers are subject. The tongue is loose, and there is no weight upon the horses' necks.
